JUDGMENTS AWARDED

Clarence Darrow, internationally famous criminal lawyer, will appear at Memorial Hall, Springfield, July 1, as one of four speakers in a religious forum. In a thirty-minute address he will state why he is an agnostic.

Other speakers scheduled to take part are Dr. Hugh Ivan Evans, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Dayton, on "Why I Am a Protestant"; Rabbi Louis Witt of the Dayton Hebrew Congregation, on "Why I Am a Jew"; and Quin O'Brien, brilliant Chicago attorney and Catholic layman, on "Why I Am a Catholic." Appearing on the same platform, on the same evening, each man will have 30 minutes for a statement of his beliefs.

Clarence Darrow's name immediately became the subject of the religious forum which has taken part during his half-century in the criminal courts of America. Perhaps the most notable trials in which he has participated were those of Eugene V. Debs; John Thomas Scopes in the Dayton, Tenn., evolution case; Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone at Boise, Idaho; the McNamara Brothers in Los Angeles; Loeb and Leopold in Chicago; and Dr. Sweet in Detroit.

A similar forum held in Columbus a year ago was attended by 4200 people. At Indianapolis a few weeks ago more than 3000 attended the four-cornered discussion. It is believed that the forum in Springfield, July 1, will prove one of the greatest drawing cards in recent years.

It is announced by George G. Whitte, director of the forum, that out-of-town mail orders addressed to him at Memorial Hall, will be filled promptly on a popular scale of 75c, $1.00 and $1.50. Remittances should be accompanied by stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

DIVORCE GIVEN

Charging that her husband was cruel to her and associated with other women, Alta Ewing has brought suit in Common Pleas Court for divorce from George Ewing. The plaintiff declared in the petition that living with the defendant became so unbearable that she left home last June 10, being no longer able to put up with his conduct. They were married July 26, 1920, and have two children, Donald J. and Dorothy. 6. According to the petition the couple jointly owns real estate and household furniture and the defendant owns an auto.

The plaintiff seeks temporary and permanent alimony, custody of the two minor children and asks that the defendant be enjoined from molesting her or disposing of his auto and the household furniture.

VALUE FIVE ESTATES

Values of five estates have been estimated in Probate Court. Gross value of the estate of Charles E. Beal, deceased, is placed at $22,736, including personal property worth $19,485 and real estate valued at $3,251. Debts total $3,466 and the cost of administration is $941, leaving a net value of $18,310.

Other estates were appraised as follows: Estate of A. C. Sellars: gross value, $31,375; personal property, $26,625; real estate $4,750; debts, $2,634.07; cost of administration, $923.50; net value, $27,227.72.

Estate of Thaddeus Blakeley: gross value, $6,262.50; personal property, worth $2,842.50; real estate, worth $3,420; debts, $1,057.09; cost of administration, $613; net value, $3,986.44.

Estate of Mary A. Hollingsworth: gross value, $6,848; debts and cost of administration, $840; net value, $6,008.

LIFE-LONG INMATE OF INFIRMARY DIES

William Bell, commonly known to hundreds of Cedarvillians as "Blind Billy," died Saturday morning at 5:30 o'clock at the County Infirmary.

The infirmarian, the only home "Billy" ever had, was an unknown September 23, 1901, when "Billy," then an infant, was a year old, then came to the infirmary. Since then it has been his home. He has been blind from birth and his parents, who were his counselors, died when he was a child.

Billy was a very intelligent man. His mother took him to a basket and abandoned him to an unknown fate. But she neglected to place him in the shade and the hot sun, burning into his eyes for a long time, blistered them so that ever since that "Billy" has been blind. It was the day he took him to the infirmary and the county and its officials took the place of the mother who had deserted him.

Smiling in the face of this adversity, "Blind Billy" developed a philosophy that made him beloved of his fellow inmates and the officials who came and went during the years he made the infirmary his home. Overcoming the handicap of blindness, he developed a native talent for music and became an accomplished performer on the harp, piano, organ and accordion. He used this talent to entertain his fellow inmates, bringing cheer into the dreary circles of institution life and frequently came to Xenia to appear on church programs.

Through his friend Charles Williams, a fellow inmate, "Blind Billy" became familiar with the Bible, his friend reading the Scriptural passages until "Billy" could recite them word for word. Thus he became a student of the Scriptures.

But death culminated a long illness for "Billy" Saturday and the entire infirmary mourns his passing. Funeral services were held at the Infirmary Chapel Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock and the friends he made at the institution gathered at his bedside to say their last farewell. Burial was made in Woodland Cemetery.

ELEVENTH ANNIVERSARY MEETING OF O. E. S.

The regular meeting of Cedarville Chapter No. 418 O. E. S. was held Monday evening, June 10th. Preceding the meeting the members and a few invited guests enjoyed a covered dish supper in Nagley's hall. This being the eleventh anniversary of Cedarville Chapter, after the business meeting and initiation the following program was rendered:

Music: Mrs. Frank Creswell, Bernese Elias, and Pauline Nelson. "Sister Mason's" a one-act play was given by several of the members. Mrs. Frank Creswell gave an interesting report of instituting the chapter. Mrs. Della Johnson read an original poem. "Some said it couldn't be done, but we did it." Fifteen of the twenty-three charter members were present. All departed at a late hour having enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Consolidation of Schools Is Urged

The Greene County board of education at the meeting Friday afternoon will be formally requested to take steps toward consolidation of the Jamestown village and Silvercreek township school districts.

This action is the result of recommendations of J. L. Clifton, state director of education and approved by boards of both school districts and patrons with whom he held a conference in Jamestown Monday afternoon. The county board of education was represented at the conference by W. B. Bryson and J. B. Rife, both of whom expressed confidence that the board as a whole would be willing to conform to the plan.

This will mean dissolution of both school districts and their boards of education and the creation of a temporary board of five members by the county board, to serve until the next general election when a board for the merged district will be elected.

The merged district will have a tax duplicate of $4,000,000 and it is pointed out that there will be sufficient revenue to render a bond issue to provide improved school facilities not necessary immediately. The proposed merger of the school districts has been under consideration for several months and the conference was arranged at the direction of Director Clifton.

Ohio State Begins 58th Academic Year

COLUMBUS, O.—Marking the beginning of the university's fifty-eighth year of instruction, the first term of the summer quarter opened Tuesday, June 17, at Ohio State University.

Forty departments of instruction are taking part in the most pretentious summer program in the history of the university. More than 500 courses are offered, and the resident faculty is augmented by 50 visiting teachers from other American and European colleges and universities.

Other features of the summer program include an Institute for Educational Research, the American Institute of Cooperation, July 7 to 12; a conference June 20 of mayors of Ohio cities to consider the organization of a league of Ohio municipalities; annual demonstration school under auspices of the college of education; and special courses at the Franz Theodore Stone marine biological laboratory at Put-in-Bay, Ohio. The university is also cooperating in the National Education Association convention to be held here shortly.

A gain in the summer registration is expected over that of a year ago when enrollment for the first term was 1567 and for the entire quarter 3871. Advanced courses are emphasized in the summer's curriculum. Visiting teachers have been added to the staffs of 20 departments.

The Institute for Education by Radio, sponsored by the university, the state department of education and the Payne Fund, New York City, will have a separate staff of 30 experts. It is the first conference of its kind and has as its purpose an exhaustive consideration of the possibilities of utilizing the radio for educational purposes.

Fifteen hundred or more representatives of marketing and other agricultural organizations are expected here for the American Institute of Cooperation meetings. Topics on its program will include a discussion of farm relief and of the first year's operations of the federal farm board.

The quarter is divided into two terms. First term will last until July 23 and the second term from July 24 to August 29.

FARM BUREAU MEETING

The quarterly meeting of the Cedarville Township Farm Bureau will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Bradfute on next Monday evening, June 23 at 8 o'clock. All farm bureau members and their families as well as all members of the 4-H Clubs and their parents are invited.

The program will consist of a talk on Agriculture in the Sudan by R. Cecil Rife, who has recently returned from that country, where he has been engaged in mission work for the past three years. Miss Ruth Radford, acting Home Demonstration Agent will give a talk on County Camps. The Open Formula Feeds will be discussed. David C. Bradfute will give a brief report on the recent Farm Bureau Tax Committee meeting held in Columbus. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. Allen Turnbull, who has been teaching at Lakeside, Ohio, has returned home. His mother, Mrs. Hugh Turnbull, Sr., who has been in very poor health does not show any improvement.

PRIMARY RACE; THREE OUT FOR REPRESENTATIVE

The August 12 primary election promises to be a spirited contest of the Republican party at least all offices having opposition except the county coroner.

Braving the possible hoodoo of the doubly unlucky day, Friday the 13th, when the time for filing nominating petitions expired at 8:30 p. m., the "eleventh hour" entry of a number of candidates makes certain warm competition for nominations on the Republican ticket and nomination is equivalent to election in this county.

The Democratic party did not bother to file a slate of candidates for the primary although a full Democratic ticket is promised for the November election.

Principal interest will be attached to the three-cornered contest over the nomination for Greene County's representative in the state legislature.

Representative R. D. Williamson, seeking his fourth term, will be opposed by two candidates. Mrs. Carrie L. Platter, president of the Greene County Women's Christian Temperance Union, and Fred M. Ervin, in the feed and grain business in Xenia with his father, C. H. Ervin, are his rival candidates for the nomination.

Representative Williamson, one of the state's agricultural leaders, was a former member of the state board of control and the state board of agriculture and two years ago was chairman of the house finance committee. At present he is serving on that committee for the third time.

Paul H. Creswell, serving an appointive term as county auditor, and a candidate for his first elective term of office, will have an expected opposition from George L. Eckerle, of the Eckerle Printing Co., who filed his petition Friday as did Creswell, whose petition contained approximately 1,300 signatures, more than any other candidate.

Because he is serving an appointive term, Creswell filed for both the short term and long term as auditor. The law specifies that unless an appointive term to fill a vacancy is made within thirty days in advance of an election, there must be a short and long term. The short term will expire when the term to which former Auditor R. O. Wend was elected expires. Eckerle did not file for the short term.

R. O. Copesey, former Xenia, Twp. Justice of the peace, filed his petition Friday seeking the nomination for county treasurer in opposition to the candidacy of Harold M. Van Pelt, who has served as chief deputy treasurer for four years.

J. Carl Marshall will not again seek the office of prosecuting attorney which he has held for three terms, leaving the field to Attorney Marcus McCallister and James P. Kyle.

George F. Sugden, chief deputy under Sheriff Oliver Tift, is a candidate to succeed his father in that office and he will be opposed at the primary by John Baughn, Jamestown, former chief deputy sheriff under former Sheriff Morris Sharp.

The fight for the one vacancy on the board of county commissioner will also be a three-way affair. Herman W. Eavey, incumbent, whose term expires, John A. North, Xenia plumbing contractor and former commissioner, and C. A. Jacobs, Dayton Pike, are the three candidates.

County Recorder B. F. Thomas will be opposed for re-nomination by "eroy Wolf, Xenia, former Pennsylvania Railroad engineer.

Dr. R. L. Haines, Jamestown, candidate for county coroner, is the only office seeker without opposition. Since he is also serving out an appointive term he filed for a short as well as a long term for the office. He formerly served as coroner for ten years.

PUNISHMENT FOR THOSE WHO TRANSGRESS

North Carolina was one of the southern states that fell into the Hoover column in the last presidential election. Senator Simmons, after a service of twenty years, was seeking re-election but suffered a terrible defeat in the recent Democratic primary in that state. Simmons could not stand Al Smith for president and this year of 1930 the Democratic voters could not stand Simmons. Evidently there has been a big change in sentiment in North Carolina.

A Greene county resident was a visitor in that state previous to the primary and reports that he never was in as hot a campaign. The Klan is very strong in the Democratic party in that state, or was supposed to be, but the primary result indicates the Democratic Klansmen want back in Al Smith's party. Democrats that were regular two years ago made things hard for those who bolted Smith. The Klan can hardly hold together. Even regular Democrats went so far as to cut financial support to churches as a punishment for taking a hand in the election.

The North Carolina result is indicative of one thing, the South is still Democratic. One other state, Alabama, is yet to vote and Senator Tom Mefflin must face a situation much like what Simmons did, and he will find the result the same. Another blow to the power of the Klan.

KEEPING STEP WITH BUSINESS

One of the largest mail order houses in the country has announced that next year it will reduce its enormous stock from over 12,500 different items to about 5,500 items. How many business men know the reason for such a radical change? How many business men know new conditions are arising in the mercantile field that are causing not only mail order houses but chain stores to follow different course in the future?

The mail order house in question has found out that it has been handling more lines of goods than have proved profitable. It has found out that many lines have a slow sale. It has discovered these slow moving lines have been losing money and for that reason only quick selling merchandise will be carried after this year.

Is this not a lesson worth while to all merchants, whether in the small town or large city. Are there not thousands of merchants that have more different lines than are proving profitable? Successful merchandising can only be brought about by having what the trade wants. Customers are shoppers nowadays and the time is nearing when there will be a return to the plan of hardware for hardware stores; bread in the bakeries; groceries in grocery stores and furniture in furniture stores.

Stores that cannot find a quick turnover for their stock today are facing a serious problem. The public does not want goods that have aged on shelves. The public will not be satisfied with anything but the new goods and latest styles. Merchants must realize this change and confine their lines to those with the fastest turnover.

TEACH BOYS POWER USE

More extended instruction in the handling of machinery, and particularly in the use of electricity, is advocated for farm boys by the Federal Board for Vocational Education, according to the southern regional agent.

He declares that electricity is rapidly becoming used to a greater extent on farms, particularly in the South and in other sections where waterpower is available. For this reason he urges the necessity for requiring vocational agricultural teachers to study the operation of electrical equipment, so that they may teach the boys under their charge how to employ it in practical farming.

Recently a specialist in the Department of Agriculture pointed out that mechanical power can be produced at less than half the cost of animal power. The increased cost of man power is also an important factor in hastening the employment of a greater number and a larger variety of labor-saving machines. The farmer of the future must have a certain amount of mechanical knowledge, hence the farm boy should begin as early as possible to master the practical operation of power-operated machinery.

Welcome to Brazil

Important to the human race are physical power and mental power. Mental power has stood still for about two thousand years. Physical power is constantly increasing.

A German has found a way to increase the power of engines, gasoline, Diesel or steam, from 20 to 60 percent, his new kind of turbine using the power of exhaust gases.

Luthans, great German airplane company, has ordered a Diesel engine built on the new plan for airplane experiment. Fuel oil will be used.

Germany leads the world in mechanical invention and in chemistry.

Professor Claude, one of the world's most distinguished physicists, informs the French Academy of Science that he is making progress in his effort to stiller power from the ocean.

A small fraction of the tides' powers would make all other power unnecessary. The tides, once harnessed, would run our machinery as long as the sun and moon combine to raise and drop the waters of the ocean.

Professor Claude's experiments use the warm water at the surface of the ocean to operate a turbine, the water being converted to steam by means of a vacuum. Cold water from the depths of the sea is used to recondense the steam and renew the vacuum.

It is complicated for the nonscientific mind, but if there is "an inexhaustible store of power in tropical sea water," that certainly will make a great difference to enormous populations living near the equator in comparative idleness.

The death of Sir Henry Segrave, brilliant, courageous Englishman, will be regretted everywhere.

He had developed new speeds in motorboats and automobiles, and was killed when a boat in which he was going 100 miles an hour turned over and sank.

Mr. Nelson Rockefeller, grandson of John D. Rockefeller, writes on "The Use of Leisure," in the Dartmouth alumni magazine. The article is well written, serious.

In time the young man's problem will be "the use of money." His father and grandfather do not live extravagantly. They give away a great deal but compound interest is more powerful than their giving. With any sort of management the third generation of Rockefellers should have at least five billions of dollars. A large sum to use satisfactorily.

Napoleon said his government could not last if he allowed liberty to the press.

Chicago gangsters seem to have heard about that. A gangster bullet in the back of the head killed Alfred Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter.

Lingle, it seems, knew more about gang criminals than a reporter ought to know, according to gang standards. Chicago takes seriously this latest killing. But conviction is improbable. The killer, probably, was some youth in his teens, fortified with cocaine. Paid for the job, he did not know the name of the man he killed, perhaps doesn't know it yet.

It is hard for detectives to work in the absence of any motive.

President-Elect Julio Prestes de Albuquerque of Brazil, coming to visit us, will be welcome everywhere. As head of Brazil's government, he represents a gigantic empire, magnificently typical of wealth and greatness in America.

Larger than the United States, with one water power much more powerful than Niagara, a soil of fertility indescribable, diamond mines whose blue-white products surpass all others, and, most important, an intelligent, patriotic, hard-working people, our guest from Brazil speaks for a nation of whose friendship this country may be proud.

Wall Street continues to worry small fish, and reflect the actions of bigger men.

Little ones worry, and sell. Bigger ones, that have been turning out stocks, tens of millions of shares at a time, do not want any "violence," so they let the market slide down hill a little while, then steady it.

Thus you may see a tender father gently catch his little child as it tumbles from a height.

But one of these days the child may be seriously bumped.

New York city clinics announce "free plastic surgery." If you don't like your face the way it changes it for you if you have a good reason.

No beauty parlor business will be done, no face lifting to hide wrinkles. The idea is to improve faces that interfere with securing employment. Deformed noses, "canaliflowers" ears, torn lips, caved-in cheek bones that make faces repulsive, will be attended to.

Grover Alexander, famous baseball pitcher, is "unconditionally released" by the Philadelphia National League club. It means that his day is done. Such is fame, when you acquire it with arms, legs, physical strength.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TRIP TO MILWAUKEE

Readers of the Herald may be interested in a few side lights about the city that entertained the National Editorial Association this week. To get to Milwaukee you must go through Chicago and a stop in that city shows some wonderful progress during the past two years. Chicago may have her "beer war" and "machine gun" play but business is moving slowly about normal. This the third city in the world will in 1933 hold the next great World's Fair and excellent progress is being made towards grounds for the event by filling the lake. Acres after acres now has wide cement walk-ways with the landscape dotted with trees and shrubs.

Upon reaching Milwaukee one naturally wonders how the name originated and we find it comes from the Indian name "Millicke," meaning, "Good Land." This must be true for we find crops under way following a late spring that has been benefited by almost weekly rain fall. Peonies are now in full bloom and the finest strawberries we ever saw are found in all the markets. What a contrast to all Ohio and part of Indiana.

This city has a population of 570,000 people and has many industries that are famous outside of the reputation made years ago by Mr. Pabst. Evidently what Mr. Pabst did for the thirst of the country has not yet become history if all reports are true. But at that we would guess conditions here are no worse than in other cities, if as bad as in some.

The German influences—cultural, social and industrial are evident everywhere. In the city we find Marquette University, a vocational training school; a state teachers' college; Milwaukee Downer College for girls; Concordia College; a Seminary; Art School; Business Schools and 102 elementary, high and technical schools. The public library has 800,000 volumes and there are 250 churches and 44 hospitals.

The civic spirit stands high and we find all the streets and alleys unusually clean. It is the only city in the world that has men collect ashes from the basement and what a stroke any municipal administration could make by following this example.

Milwaukee boasts of another feature in having a clerk of courts that has collected all forfeited bail bonds during the past forty years except an amount that is less than $1500. This is an unusual record.

In the Public Museum we find fifty pieces of Redwood, said to be the best in the world. Also the Numismatic collection of coins numbering 2,200 pieces, an exhibit the like of which cannot be found elsewhere.

Cincinnati Lady, Husband and Three Year Old Son Find
Health in New Medicine

MRS. CHERESA SCHMIDT

"Beside helping me, Konjola benefited my husband and three year old boy," said Mrs. Cheresa Schmidt, White Oaks, Cincinnati. "I suffered from stomach and kidney trouble and nervousness. Food soured in my stomach and formed gas. Pains across the back, dizzy spells and bilious attacks made life a burden. My feet and limbs swelled terribly and I was so tired all the time that the simplest household tasks were drudgery."

"I had read and heard a great deal about Konjola but I had no idea it could do all that it did in my case. The second bottle began to show its effect. I kept right on with Konjola and today I weigh 100 pounds, eat what I wish and sleep well at night. The swelling has left my ankles and feet and my housework is no longer drudgery. My nerves are calm and I am enjoying life. We know what to do at our house when we do not feel right. We will never be without Konjola."

Konjola drives the accumulated poisons from the body, stimulates the oiling organs and aids Nature in restoring new and abundant health. A real test, from six to eight bottles, has amazed thousands of men and women who found new health in this great medicine.

Konjola is sold in Cedarville, Ohio, at Brown and Brown Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout the entire section.

One of the topics discussed here, as well as Chicago, is the new tariff and how it will affect business. The leading Republican papers, even in Chicago see little hope for betterment. Among editors and publishers there is a great difference of opinion and with many not even an expression from a party standpoint can be had. While a few states may favor the bill there can be little truthful forecast made at this time. Several well known business experts at the convention touched on the tariff but each stated the country cannot adjust itself on the history and experience of the past for we have an entirely different problem to face this time.

Many valuable prizes were donated for the best editorial on "Wisconsin" or "Milwaukee," the gift of manufacturers and business men under the direction of the Milwaukee Press Club. The capital prize was five passenger Nash sedan with other prizes such as electric radio, electric dish washer, furniture, and half a hundred other prizes, all of which will be greatly appreciated by the various winners.

As host to hundreds of publishers from California to Massachusetts and from Florida to Minnesota the city has provided much entertainment. Three days were devoted to business sessions after which came sightseeing and pleasure trips by train and boat to various points of interest in Wisconsin and to Mackinac and Sault Ste. Marie on the Canadian border. These business interests as part of the entertainment for visiting editors and it was with regret that business engagements made it impossible for the writer to accept this hospitality.

The Y. P. C. After the First
Twenty-five Thousand Miles

THE VALUE of sound design, good materials and careful craftsmanship is especially apparent in the new Ford after the first twenty-five thousand miles. Long, continuous service emphasizes its mechanical reliability and economy of operation and up-keep.

As you drive the Ford through many months and years you will develop an increasing pride in its appearance and a growing respect for the substantial worth that has been built into it. From every standpoint—in everything that goes to make a good automobile—you will know that you have made a far-seeing, satisfactory purchase.

Wherever you go, you hear enthusiastic praise of the car and this significant, oft-repeated phrase—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

A FORD owner in New York tells of a 13,000-mile trip across the United States and back in sixty days and says "the car was extremely economical to operate, comfortable and speedy." A grateful father tells how the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield saved his wife and children from serious injury.

To test tires, a large company drove a new Ford day and night, for an average of 500 miles every twenty-four hours. It was still giving satisfactory service after 105,000 miles.

A Ford car that had fallen into Foxen Lake was submerged for twelve days before being raised. After a new battery and carburetor bowl were installed, it was driven back to Spokane under its own power.

Many police departments have written of the special advantages of the Ford in crowded traffic because of its alert speed, acceleration, and ease of control. An increasing number of fleet owners are also purchasing the Ford because their cost figures have given conclusive proof of its economy of operation and up-keep.

In addition to important triumphs in Germany, France and Italy, the Ford won six out of seven leading places in a contest in Finland, first and second in the Helsinki races in Argentina, first and second in the run from Copenhagen-to-Paris-to-Copenhagen, three gold medals in England, first ranking in the durability test over the toughest American road in Peru, and first place in the 1930 reliability run conducted by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden. This contest was an exceptionally severe test of endurance and sturdy construction because it was held in the dead of winter and covered 600 miles of steady running over snow-covered country roads and mountainous hills.

Great Violin Maker
There are no actual data as to the first violin made by Jacobus Stainer, who was born in 1611 and died in 1683 in an insane asylum. He was appointed to a maker of stringed instruments and is estimated to have produced violins of his own about 1641. Later he studied at Cremona, where he discovered Italian methods of violin manufacture and became a master in the art. He was a German, born in the Tyrol.

Ohio's Industrial Employment Drops 1 Per Cent in May

COLUMBUS, O.—After the temporary slackening of the decline in April, industrial employment in Ohio continued to decline in May but four of the chief cities showed gains over April, according to the monthly report of the bureau of business research, Ohio State University.

Akron, Columbus, Toledo, and Youngstown had increases in industrial employment in May over April ranging from 1 to 3 per cent, the report added. But the decline in the state as a whole was 1 per cent as compared with a five-year average increase of 1 per cent. The figures were taken from reports supplied by nearly 900 Ohio industrial concerns.

The May volume of employment, the report continued, was 14 per cent less than for May, 1929, and the average for the first five months of 1930 was 13 per cent less than for the similar period a year ago. Manufacturing employment in Ohio also declined 1 per cent in May from April, due, the report explained, "to employment declines in the chemicals, the machinery, the metal products, the paper and printing, and textiles groups."

The stone, clay and glass groups reported no change in May from April, and the food products, lumber products and rubber products groups reported slight gains. The decline of 1 per cent in employment in the non-manufacturing industries of Ohio was in contrast with a five-year average increase of 1 per cent.

What Are You Worth by the Hour?

This Valuable Service Saves Time When It Means Money to You. Yet It Need Cost You Nothing

EVERY time you pay by check you save valuable time — sometimes only a few minutes, often more. Take a month's cancelled vouchers and estimate the value of the time it would have taken to make the same payments in cash. Then multiply by 12 to set the yearly saving. The amount will startle you.

Checking service has other values to you, too. It gives you a legal receipt. It makes efficient, easily-kept records of financial transactions, visualizing expenses for easy control. It keeps your money in a safe place, yet the purchasing power is always at your pen's point.

Probably over 90% of all business transactions today, involve the use of checks, but with increased banking costs, many accounts, profitable ten or fifteen years ago, actually represent a loss to the bank today.

The surplus left on deposit is the bank's only source of revenue from checking accounts. If funds are checked out as soon as deposits are made, naturally there is no surplus, no revenue and no compensation to the bank for the service. Yet it costs the bank just as much to handle 32 checks for the man who keeps no surplus on deposit as it does to handle 32 checks for you with a reasonable reserve always in the bank.

A checking account, properly used, is an important source of profit to you. Talk it over with your banker and arrange to put it at work immediately.

Lesson for June 22

THE RISEN LORD AND THE GREAT COMMISSION

GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye therefore and teach all nations.
LESSON TEXT—Matthew 28:1-10.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Carrying on Jesus' Work.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Our Marching Orders.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Our Marching Orders.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Great Commission.

1. The Empty Sepulchre (vv. 1-7).
1. The earthquake (vv. 1-4). This occurred when the glorious angel descended from heaven to roll the stone away from the tomb. This work of the angel was not to allow Jesus to escape, but to show that the tomb was empty. Christ needed not even the help of the angel, for He came forth from the grave by His own power as the seal of His atoning work on the cross (Rom. 1:4). The open tomb and the angel sitting upon the stone with calm dignity, is a graphic picture of Christ's triumph over the devil, and the terror of the keepers is a sample of what all of Christ's enemies shall one day experience when He comes in glory to reign as King.

2. The angel's message to the women (vv. 5-7).
(1) Fear not (v. 5). While the enemies had occasion to fear, these women who loved the Lord received good news from the empty tomb. The empty tomb puts an end forever to all doubts and fears. Let every teacher endeavor to show the greatness of the fact that the tomb was empty, for it shows that we have a living Christ. The resurrection of Christ should be the major theme of those who give out the Christian message. (2) "Come, see" (v. 6). The angel told the women that the Lord had risen and invited them to see the place where He lay. The Lord made special effort to convince the disciples of the reality of His resurrection. He remained with them for forty days, giving them many "infallible proofs." (3) "Go quickly" (v. 7). Having seen for themselves, their responsibility was to go and tell the message. Experience is necessary before testimony. They were to go quickly to the disciples with the message, assured that the Lord would go before and meet them.

II. The Risen Lord Meets the Women (vv. 8-10).
The women quickly obeyed the command of the angel, and were running to bring word to the disciples. Jesus met them on the way. Those who have an experimental knowledge of Christ should go speedily to tell others of it. When they saw Jesus—that He was really the Lord—they worshiped Him.

III. Paying Money to Circulate a Lie (vv. 11-15).

That Jesus arose from the dead could not be denied even by the Sanhedrin. They saw only one way out of the difficulty; that was to bribe the keepers to tell a lie. They had paid money for His betrayal—now they paid more money to circulate a lie about His resurrection. This shows the wonderful power that money has over the lives and consciences of men. It not only induces people to lie, but it even muzzles the mouths of some teachers and preachers.

IV. The King's Great Commission (vv. 16-20).

1. The royal authority (v. 18).
By virtue of His divine authority, He issued this command to the disciples. In order to prepare them for the reception of this command, He declared unto them that all power in heaven and earth had been given unto Him.

2. The commission itself (vv. 19, 20).

It consists of three parts: (1) Go teach all nations. This is the first and primary business of the disciple. This command has been issued to all disciples by the risen and mighty Lord. (2) Baptize them in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Those who have become disciples of the Lord should receive the rite which signifies that relationship to Him. (3) Teach them to observe all of Christ's commandments (v. 20). Those who have become Christ's disciples should be taught conformity to His will.

3. The available power (v. 21).
Those who obey Christ in carrying out this commission shall enjoy His abiding presence.

Actual Road Tests Prove SUNOCO MOTOR OIL Keeps Out Hard Carbon Increases Power . . . Minimizes Knocking

YOU can see the heavy carbon deposits on Piston A, after running only 1000 miles . . . hard, flinty carbon. A well-known, compounded, paraffine oil, containing cylinder stock, was used.

Piston B was taken from the same Ford engine, same cylinder, after running 5000 miles (5 times as far). SUNOCO MOTOR OIL was used. After the test, there was only a little soft, harmless soot, which could be wiped off easily with a rag . . . a characteristic SUNOCO performance.

In modern motors, there's no more space for carbon between piston and top of cylinder than the thickness of a thin dime. It does not take long, therefore, for carbon accumulation to cause loss of power, pre-ignition, knocking and expensive carbon removal costs.

We are glad to announce to our own congregation and to the community at large that we are to have the pleasure and honor of having with us for this Children's Day service, twenty-five children from the first three grades of the School in the Greene County Children's Home. Beginning with the number entitled, "The Morning Prayer," the remainder of the program will be given by these young folks, who are afterward to be the guests of families in the congregation for dinner and a part of the afternoon. They have been trained by their teachers, Mrs. Rava S. Cavender who will accompany them on this visit to our community. If you are interested in knowing something of the character of the work that is being done by Mrs. Cavender and other members of the Staff at this institution, you will want to be present at the hour named above. Presbyterian Church, 10:15 A. M. Bring your friends.

The residents of the east end of town were given quite a thrill Tuesday by the flying of Leut. S. C. Mills of Wright Field, Dayton, who had come to drop some "Home Papers" for Rev. W. P. Harriman. Leut. Mills who is connected with the Experimental Department at Wright Field is a native of So. Ryegate, Vermont, the home of Rev. Harriman. He is a graduate of the University of Vermont, with Post Graduate work in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and besides having won several trophies in flying, is an authority in that field. We hope he may come to the College some time to speak to the students about the future of aviation.

THE FLYING FISHERS

Daring Aerialists Seen at the Same Fourth of July Celebration, All Day and Evening, Clark County Fair Grounds, Springfield, Ohio

A company of daring aerialists who will thrill by their wonderful skill and fearless stunts on the flying aerial trapeze. This act has been booked for the Same Fourth of July Celebration to be given at the Clark County Fair Grounds, Springfield, all day and evening, Wednesday, July 4. The ladies show as much nerve as the men in this sensational performance, which includes double and triple somersaults whilst flying. This is just one of fifteen feature circus acts that will be put on in front of the big amphitheatre. A balloon ascension with two daring lady aeronauts and seven parachute drops and a mammoth $2,500.00 Fireworks Display are among other outstanding features at the greatest Independence Celebration in the State of Ohio.
